A Thought for the Week:

By Apostle Walter L. Jackson, Sr.

Week 1: The way is a “journey,” not a destination

Week 2: The Kingdom of God is a system, not a place.

Week 3: Listening is the seed for learning.

Week 4: Learn to be skillful in the Word (of God).

Topic: The Series "Search For Truth"
The Study of the Old Testament Tabernacle

Lesson for the Month:

The Purpose Driven Life

Purpose 3: Your Part In God's Family

Purpose 4: Becoming Like Christ

Your life is worth taking time to think about. And God is worth knowing, because he's the only one who can give your life real meaning. In 2016 the youth will study and discuss the book Purpose-Driven Life Devotional for Kids by Rick Warren to get a better understanding of God's plan for their lives and how they can make a difference in the world.

Practical Life Tidbits

Vanity Sizing

Ah, denim shopping. The confusion, the frustration, the inevitable run for the leggings rack—there's nothing like trying to find a pair of jeans that actually work. Every brand is different and, despite what the tag might say, no two sizes feel the same between retailers. You could be a size eight at this place, a size six at that place and a size ten somewhere else. It's exhausting to try and keep track.

Enter the problem of vanity sizing. Popular thought has it that women (and men!) are more likely to buy certain articles of clothing if the label size is smaller than how they perceive themselves. As The New Yorker explains it, brands have simply been sizing up along with the general population of America. Whatever the reason, many brands have resorted to labeling larger waist/hip measurements as smaller sizes, hence the sizing confusion. To sort through the weirdness, we compared the measurements for a size eight at 25 of our favorite retailers to find out what an actual size eight should be—and who the worst offenders are when it comes to irregular sizing.

Mission Statement

Our mission is to perpetuate the gospel of Jesus Christ (the good news of the death, burial and resurrection of our Lord and Saviour). We want to proclaim these glad tidings to all, to provide a clear and direct route to God, to prepare all that will believe and receive for the much anticipated great and glorious return of our Lord.
